Registration opened in Late January this year.

Along with delegate registration, there is also a link for Exhibitors to register. This is kept up to date with a visual representation of booth spaces to allow exhibitors to choose their preferred location.

A copy of the program is available on the website, as well as a registration list of confirmed delegates in attendance.

After the event, the speaker's presentations can be found on the website for those interested in recapping the sessions.

The response was exciting and engaging for both delegates and MLB staff. Across from the Merchandise table was the MLB exhibit booth. This kept a nice flow from registration, to getting to know the MLB staff and more of what they have to offer.

The Merchandise booth was set up during all exhibit breaks and receptions and had a continuous flow of engagement.
